

POOR START BY RED SOX

Defeated by Athletics 8 to 1 at Philadelphia

ARELLANES WAS WEAK

And Ryan Who Finished the Game Was Wild—Washington Defeated New York in Other Opening Game of the Season.

Philadelphia, April 12.—The American league baseball season was opened in this city yesterday afternoon, when the Athletics defeated Boston by the score of 8 to 1, the home team batting well and knocking Arellanes out of the box. A tremendous crowd witnessed the opening. Plank pitched for the Athletics and was very effective. Boston was somewhat shaky in fielding, besides being weak at the bat, but the home team made but a single blunder, that an error by Melnes.

The Athletics opened up in the first inning, when Stahl juggled Arellanes's toss on Nichols's grounder and Collins followed with a sharp drive through the box. Then Murphy laced a single to right, and Nichols beat Gessler's throw home. Arellanes was let down easy in the second, but in the third the Athletics went after him again. With two down in this inning, Collins got his second hit and Murphy followed with a terrific line, the batter making two bases and Collins going home. Davis hit safely and Murphy went home. Davis stole second, but Strunk died to Gessler.

Philadelphia went out in one, two, three order in the fourth, but gathered another in the fifth on Nichols's double, Collins's sacrifice and Murphy's single.

Boston's only tally came in the sixth on Gessler's pass, Wagner's single and Thoney's double to the right field ropes. After Hartnell and Nichols had singled off Arellanes in the seventh, the box artist was taken out and Ryan was sent in to pitch. Ryan walked Collins, filling the bases. Hartnell hit to Stahl, but Davis was hit by a pitched ball and a run was forced in. Strunk hit a weak one in front of the plate and Collins was forced.

Mr. Ryan had a bad time in the eighth inning. With one down, Powers was safe on Wagner's low throw, Plank fouled out, but Hartnell hit too hot for Lord. Nichols walked, filling the bases, and then Ryan forced a run in with another pass to Collins. Murphy then select-

HIGHLANDERS LOST TO WASHINGTON

Because of The "Rattles" Which Afflicted Their Pitcher Newton, While Smith of Washington Was Cool as a Cucumber.

Washington, D. C., April 12.—The wilderness of Newton, the Highlander pitcher, and the splendid twirling of Smith, gave Washington a decisive victory over New York yesterday, 4 to 1, in the first game of the season. Smith struck out ten men and kept the hits so scattered that New York had scarcely a chance, getting its single tally on Elberfeld's double. Eagle's pass, Ward's sacrifice and Ball's out.

Washington won the game in the first inning. Newton passed Gylinder, but the latter was forced at second on a hunt to Newton. Unglauh doubled, putting Milan on third. On Delehanty's blunder Newton threw wild to the plate. Milan scoring. Newton fumbled Gylinder's easy one, filling the bases. Then Freeman singled, scoring two runners. Conroy was out stealing but Freeman did the trick. Meltride died out.

In the third, Delehanty and Conroy singled, but Freeman struck out. Newton hit Meltride, filling the bases. Then Eagle made the most wonderful play of the season, going into the crowd in left field, jumping into the air and catching "Colroy" who was doubled at second, but Delehanty scored on the play.

Brockett replaced Newton in the fifth inning, allowing but two hits and keeping the home team from scoring.

Reach's 1909 Guide Out.

Reach's Official American League Guide for 1909, published by the A. J. Reach company of Philadelphia, and edited by Francis C. Richter, of Sporting Life, is out, and is, as usual, first in the field, thus making it the harbinger of the baseball season. It can be said without any qualification that, excellent as all of the editions of the Reach Guide have been in recent years, the 1909 Guide is the best at hand book of the kind ever issued by this or any other publisher. The special distinction of the 1909 Guide is, next to the text, quality of paper used and the number and beauty of the engravings furnished, the world's championship series being specially well covered with splendid action pictures. The American League Guide for 1909 is in all respects a first class hand book of the national game and a decided credit to the American league and to the publishers, the Reach company. This is the eighth annual issue of the Reach Guide as the official hand book of the American league, and the twenty-seventh consecutive year of its publication as a book of record and reference for the entire baseball world. The Guide is for sale by all newsdealers at 10 cents the copy.

FINEST HAIR IN TOWN

Conclusive Evidence That Parisian Sage Grows Beautiful Hair.

"I have tried many hair restorers, but have found Parisian Sage the only one worthy of that name. My hair was falling out, and I was troubled with itching scalp, and I found it impossible to keep my hair in any condition for any length of time. It also was becoming to look faded when I began to use hair restorers. I tried many, but received no noticeable benefit until I tried your Parisian Sage. After using two bottles I now have the finest head of hair in this town. I noticed after the first application the itching and dandruff disappeared, and my hair became soft and glossy."—Miss Tillie Root, Webster, N. Y.

The Red Cross Pharmacy sells Parisian Sage at only 50 cents a large bottle. They are glad to recommend it, because they sell it under an ironclad guarantee to cure dandruff, stop falling hair, and entirely drive away any scalp disease, or money back.

Ladies should use Parisian Sage, because it is really the most delightful hair dressing in the world. It turns harsh, lustreless hair into beautiful, luxuriant hair in two weeks.

It cures dandruff because it kills the microbes. Remember, the Red Cross Pharmacy sells it under a strong guarantee. If you do not live near a druggist who sells Parisian Sage, send 50 cents to Giroux Mfg. Co., Buffalo, N. Y., and you will promptly receive a bottle by express, all charges prepaid.

SENATE'S CHANGES

Many Lower Rates in Substitute Tariff Bill

IRON ORE DUTY BACK

The Old Iron Ore Duty Is Restored—Question of Hides, Coal and Wood Pulp Left for Further Action.

Washington, April 12.—The Senate committee on finance, with all members present, met at 10 o'clock yesterday and Chairman Aldrich presented the bill as amended by the majority of the committee. Many of the revenue producing features will be reported subsequently, as they are intertwined with administrative features of the measure which will be adopted later.

Senator Aldrich, when requested to make a brief summary of the general character of the changes proposed by the Senate finance committee to the House tariff bill, furnished a detailed statement:

"In the main the rates in the tariff bill as reported from the Senate finance committee are lower than those in the bill as it passed the House, the actual number of reductions being about three times the number of increases. Such increases as have been made have been largely rendered necessary to preserve symmetry of the schedule. A considerable number of articles in common use have been taken from the dutiable list of the House bill and restored to the free list. The great mass of the rates reported are below those of existing law.

Some Specific Reductions.

"In schedule A (the chemical schedule) the principal changes are in the nature of reductions below the House bill. One important change is in putting distilled and expressed oils upon the free list.

"In schedule B (earths and earthenware) the rates remain largely the same as in the House bill, by a change in phraseology from existing law, the duties on common earthenware in two colors are raised from 25 to 30 per cent. The committee has reduced them to the rates of existing law. In glass and glassware, the rates remain the same as in the House bill.

"The Senate committee restored iron ore to the dutiable list at 25 cents per ton, a reduction of 15 cents a ton from the Dingley rate. The House had made large reductions in this schedule throughout. Nearly all these reductions have been retained by the Senate committee. The Senate committee have made quite a large number of other reductions.

The Lumber Schedule.

"The Senate committee has retained the House rate on lead ore of 15 cents per pound, but has been obliged to raise the rates on lead products throughout the bill to correspond with the duty on lead ore.

"In schedule D (wood and manufactures of wood), the Senate has taken the House rate of $1 a thousand on rough lumber, a reduction of a dollar from the Dingley law, and has retained the House rates on manufactures of wood, nearly all showing reductions from the Dingley rates. The only important change in the schedule made by the Senate committee was the restoration of imported hard woods to the free list. The Senate committee left the sugar schedule as it came from the House, but reduced the House rate on sugared biscuits and wafers from 60 to 20 per cent.

The tobacco schedule remains unchanged.

"The agricultural schedule, including meat products, remains practically unchanged from the existing law, but where reductions were made in the House, the Senate committee has restored the Dingley rates in response to the demands of farmers throughout the country and representatives of the great agricultural interests. Fish remains as it came from the House. The Senate committee has returned cocoa to the free list, believing that an article of such general consumption, both as a beverage and in all forms of chocolate, should no more be made dutiable than tea or coffee. The committee felt that if it were necessary to increase revenue, it could be done better on luxuries than on every day necessities of life and have pursued this policy in the construction of this bill.

"The Senate committee has applied the same principle to spices and has restored them to the free list, where they have always been. Again, on the same principle, the Senate committee has increased the rate on spirits and wines 10 per cent. throughout, which is estimated, will yield an additional revenue of $3,000,000, most of which will come from the increased duty on champagne.

"In the cotton schedule there has been an extension of the specific rates to cover a class of fancy goods and novelties which are covered in the existing laws by ad valorem rates. The resulting ad valorem rates have not been increased. "The average rates in the cotton schedule, other than the rates on fancies and novelties, remain the same. There is one exception to this statement and that is the reduction from the House bill on fashioned hosiery, where the committee has recommended the restoring of the rates of the existing law.

"The committee contemplates a still further substitution of specific for ad valorem rates in other paragraphs of the bill.

"Raw flax has been restored by the Senate committee to the dutiable list, otherwise the schedule remains substantially the same as it came from the House.

"The Senate committee has restored the rates in the wool schedule to the rates of the present law. In silks, the Senate committee has adopted a new schedule replacing ad valorem with specific rates in all cases where it was possible to do so, showing a slight reduction from the prevalent ad valorem rates.

"The Senate committee has not yet decided what rates it will recommend in reference to wool pulp and the articles dependent upon it. They have also left open for further action the question of the duties on coal and hides.

"It would be impossible in a brief statement to review all the articles under the heading of sundries. The changes from the House bill in the main are of such minor importance as not to require a detailed statement. It may be well, however, to call attention to the fact that the Senate committee has made reductions of 10 per cent. on an average in the specific duties on hats and bonnets, which the House had raised in some instances above the Dingley rates. The Senate committee has also struck out the House paragraph in regard to gloves and has restored the rates in the existing law.

"The Senate committee has also added to the sundries of the dutiable list foreign built yachts owned by American citizens, which seemed to the committee a luxury which might fairly pay a duty of 35 per cent.

"The free list as reported by the Senate committee, in the main, remains as it is in the existing law. A few items have been put on the dutiable list and others have been taken from the dutiable list and placed upon the free list. There is one change, however, in the free list, which is of great general interest and importance. The House very wisely made paintings and sculptures, more than 20 years old, free, and the Senate committee has added to these works of art generally, including artistic antiquities of more than 100 years of age.

"The Senate committee has taken no action as yet upon the maximum and minimum provisions of the bill. They propose to report their amendments to those most important features of the act at a later date. They have adopted this course because it has seemed to the Senate committee of the highest importance to secure immediate action upon the tariff and they feel confident that time could be saved by reporting the sections imposing duties first and the maximum and minimum and administrative features later."

Reported at Twelve O'clock.

The metal, agricultural, gloves and hosiery schedules of the Payne tariff bill are the most important provisions of the measure which are affected by the changes made by the Senate finance committee, which yesterday made public the amendments upon which it has reached a decision. Mr. Aldrich reported the bill as amended to the Senate when it met at 12 o'clock. Leaving the question of free hides and free coal in an unsettled state, the committee has made many changes in the free list, most of which restore to the non-dutiable list the articles upon which the House committee placed a duty. On the other hand, several articles, of which iron ore is the most important, have been restored to the dutiable list.

The provision of the Payne bill permitting the free entry of agricultural implements under certain conditions has been stricken out but various increases have been made in the duties coming under the agricultural schedule.

An important change is that which makes the duty on hops 15 cents instead of 12 cents per pound. Various vegetable seeds, including mushroom spawn, are provided with specific duties instead of the 20 per cent. rate. An additional cent is added to the two cent duty on cabbages.

One of the most significant changes made by the Senate committee is that which restores the rates of the Dingley law on women's stockings.

In reporting the tariff bill, Senator Aldrich moved that when the Senate adjourns yesterday it be to meet on Thursday, and he gave notice that he would then move that the Senate take up the bill for consideration.

A good workable membership was present when the House of Representatives met yesterday for its semi-weekly session. When the journal had been approved, a resolution was offered by Mr. Payne asking that the tariff bill be returned from the Senate for amendments so as to make it plain that refined petroleum and its products should appear on the free list. After the bill passed last Friday, an inspection of it disclosed that products of petroleum were omitted from the free list, although such was not the intention when the Norris amendment was stricken out and petroleum made free.

MOUNT EINA CAUSES ALARM

By New Eruption From the Crater

GREAT CLOUD OF SMOKE

Pouring Out and Ashes Falling Thick on the Surrounding Country—New Island in the Pacific Follows Earthquake.

Naples, April 12.—Etna is in eruption. A great cloud of smoke is pouring out of the crater, and ashes are falling thick on the surrounding country. Considerable apprehension is felt, and the progress of the eruption is being watched with anxiety.

The first eruption of Etna within historic times is believed to have occurred seven centuries before Christ. Twelve centuries of importance, some of which created great destruction, have been recorded as occurring before the Christian era.

One of the most disastrous outbursts occurred in 1100 A. D., when Catania was destroyed in a few minutes. One of the greatest eruptions since the Christian era was that of March, 1669, when three cities and more than 30 villages were destroyed.

In 1603, 18,000 persons were buried in Catania, and at least 60,000 persons throughout Sicily were killed. This outbreak was accompanied by a violent earthquake. But of the 54 eruptions on record comparatively few were of extreme violence.

In the 19th century quakes were recorded in 1832, '32, '65, '68, '74, '79, '85 and 1886 the last destroying fully $250,000 worth of farming lands and vineyards. There was also an eruption in 1892 which destroyed a few lives and much valuable farming property.

New Island in the Bogosol Group Following Earthquake.

Seattle, April 12.—The steamship Dora, Capt. R. B. McKay, in from Alaska, brings the story of the appearance of a new island in the Bogosol group, near Unalaska, March 10. Capt. McKay says that, according to the natives, the islands were agitated for about 10 days before the time when the new island, with great rumblings, pushed its head out of the sea. The natives of the Bogosol group began to believe with fire, ashes and sand.

Capt. McKay said that the natives, in great fear, could not be made to approach within many miles of the new island. They declared, however, that its peak was visible and that it was throwing out a volume of steam. The natives even said that soon after the appearance of the island the rumblings ceased and the eruptions from the craters on the Bogosol islands came to an end.

Beginning about March 1 there was a series of rumblings which became more pronounced every day. These rumblings were accentuated by occasional loud explosions which increased in violence and frequency. Then either new or old craters of the Bogosol group burst out in flames and the reflection of fire was visible in the sky at night and could be seen from high points near Unalaska. The marshal sent Indians off to see what occurred. They returned and said that they would not go near the place as there was fire on Bogosol and a new island was visible. The island was covered with a volcano, indicating that the rocks were still hot."

TAFTS PICK SUMMER HOME AT BEVERLY

Will Occupy the Old Stetson Home, Now Owned by Robert D. Evans of Boston, on Woodbury Point.

Boston, April 12.—That President Taft will occupy a house on Woodbury point, Beverly, owned and adjoining the summer residence of Robert D. Evans of this city, was the announcement made yesterday by Mr. Evans. Mrs. Taft visited the estate during her tour of the North Shore last month, and on Thursday last Mr. Evans was notified that the president would take the house for the summer.

The Evans house at Beverly Cove is one of the most attractive places on Salem bay. It is on a point jutting out toward Salem Willows, and is within a short distance of the business part of the city of Beverly. It is surrounded on three sides by water and is only approached by a long avenue, so that seclusion is practically assured.

Mr. Evans's own summer home is on the west side of the point from the Taft house, while the next estate to the eastward along the shore is that of Col. William D. Sohier. Farther alongshore are the summer residences of Amory A. Lawrence, William Endicott, Samuel P. Mandell and Dudley Pickman, all of Boston.

Salem harbor will afford a good anchorage for any government vessel which may bring visitors to the Taft summer home, while the golf links of the Essex County club at Manchester and those of the Myopia Hunt club at Hamilton, the latter the finest in the country, are within easy motoring distance.

The work of placing the Evans cottage in readiness for the visitors began yesterday, and it is expected that some of the members of the family will be in Beverly during the first week in June.

The house was the property of the late John Stetson, the theatrical manager, and was lately purchased by Robert D. Evans of this city. It commands a view on one side of Beverly harbor and Salem Willows, and on the other of Marblehead and the North Shore.
